Turnkey Vastu Construction Solutions

A partnership between Vastu Green Building Studio (www.vgbs-vastu.com) and Summit Reliance Group, Inc. (www.summitreliance.com), the Vastu Green Building Institute™ (VGBI) is dedicated to bringing ancient Vedic architectural and mindful living knowledge to the modern construction and building materials, as well as related consumer products industry. Rooted in millennia-old Indian architectural tradition, Vastu design pays attention among other aspects, to proper structure orientation along the Earth grid using correct divine building measure and ensuring proper energy flow within the Mother Wall. But the wisdom of traditional Vastu design is not completely manifested if the building materials - the structural skeleton and external and internal decorative elements - are not conducive to the free energy flow concept that ensures spiritual calmness, bliss and material well-being of people who live and work in the building. To create the positive resonance of those inside with the structure, ideally as many exterior and interior finishes and materials used must be natural, non-toxic, not contain steel or be prone to outgassing and be manufactured in a sustainable fashion, also ensuring proper installation orientation and fastening, as well as ongoing care.

Our Mission

Since the process of designing your existing and new buildings including residential, institutional and commercial structures, as well as marketing your construction and finishing products and materials with Vastu knowledge in mind can be complicated, VGBI can handle all of it for you with our unique solutions suite. Our services include designing and building your projects according to Vastu knowledge, as well as adapting the existing structures to the Vastu standard. We also provide Vastu-mindful materials and product sourcing, as well as marketing and branding advice and affinity programs designed to promote your products in select markets as those of special holistic value. Our Vastu Seal of Approval™ is a three-level special distinction that can be awarded to your buildings, interior spaces, materials and products based on their meeting certain Vastu standards of excellence.

How We Can Help

Branding your building and consumer products to underscore holistic excellence

VGBI is your partner in enhancing the holistic qualities of your products and related marketing potential by promoting them globally in an appropriate cultural, mindfulness and energy balance context for the benefit of your customers and end-users. We Vastu-certify newly built and adapted structures, external and internal finish products, such as concrete, masonry, paving materials, siding, roofing, insulation, trim, sealants, coatings, tile, as well as garden and outdoor living articles, furniture, fixtures, floor coverings and other objects related to construction and interior design and overall creation of living, entertainment and working environments for all humankind.

Vastu Intelligent Design and Construction Solution™

VGBI can provide complete design and build solutions for Vastu-minded residences, office buildings and other living and workplaces from concept stage to construction completion. We can work with most construction materials and ideas for your buildings, as well as offer cost competitive, high strength monolithic structures with high wind and seismic and ballistic resistance that are rapidly constructed with VASTU-certified concrete methods using recycled materials, less cement and rebar, no metal beams and Vastu-approved exterior and interior finishes that look very attractive and are holistically and environmentally sound, ensuring positive energy flow bringing security, prosperity, well-being and harmony to those inside.

Vastu Seal of Approval™

For certification purposes, we can help your products and solutions achieve one of the three Vastu Seal of Approval™ levels, which in order of increased distinction are designated Cosmic, Celestial or Unity and represent, respectively, compliant, advanced and outstanding holistic benefit levels that can be attributed to your buildings and products. These designations will be awarded as a result of a rigorous product and operations audit process during which VGBI team will assess the level of current compliance and recommend improvements to meet the scorecard criteria for each degree of certification. Regardless of the ultimate Vastu Seal of Approval™ level attained, it serves as a powerful marketing tool to promote your products to new audiences and markets around the world and augment the brand.
